

SITE SUPERVISORS COURSE

The course will offer an insight into the correct way to supervise the workplace, keep staff safe and the responsibilities of being in charge. Site management is considered and actions to be taken in the event of accidents and emergencies.

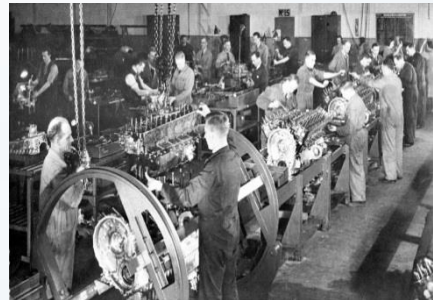

Every Manager and Supervisor has a duty of care and the legal implications of this are explored.

What will you learn?

- Permit to work – Types and who should sign
- Site inductions – Difficulties of site
- Risk Assessments – Complying with Management Health & Safety Regulations
- Manual Handling – Correct lifting procedures and how to enable staff safety
- First Aid – Emergency actions and treatment
- Tool Box talks – Briefings & Analysis, Discussions on Emergency Procedures
- COSHH – Substances Hazardous to Health
- Personnel Protection Equipment – Types of equipment for different jobs
- Audits – How to carry out

Who should attend?

All Managers, Supervisors and persons who are in charge or responsible for staff working and operating from various sites in the workplace.

Assessment will be through observations and a test on completion of the course.

Candidates should be able to communicate in written English and able to have a command of English to level 2.

To find out further information or to book your place, please call 02393 877 680 or email info@bachmann-training.com

